Notes to the Unaudited Interim Financial Statements

1) Background

Historically, Funding has provided short-term financing for JCPenney. Principally, Funding issued commercial paper to finance JCPenney's working capital needs. In 2001, JCPenney sold the assets of J. C. Penney Direct Marketing Services, Inc. to an unrelated third party. The result of this transaction coupled with JCPenney's other sources of liquidity eliminated the need for Funding to issue commercial paper for short-term borrowing requirements. Therefore, Funding has not produced any revenue or income. In addition, with Funding's current credit ratings, it is assumed that Funding would have little or no current access to commercial paper borrowing.

2) Subsequent Event

On May 29, 2003, Standard & Poor's downgraded JCPenney's corporate credit, senior unsecured and secured bank loan ratings to BB+ from BBB-. This new rating is more in line with the Moody's and Fitch ratings.

ITEM 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.

Funding derives earnings on loans to JCPenney under the terms of the Loan Agreement, which provides for unsecured loans to be made by Funding to JCPenney. Additionally, in order to maintain Funding's income at defined coverage ratios, Funding's income is supplemented by charges to JCPenney. The income of Funding is designed to cover Funding's fixed charges (interest expense) at a coverage ratio mutually agreed upon by Funding and JCPenney. The earnings to fixed charges coverage ratio has historically been at least one and one-half times.

When applicable, Funding from time to time issues commercial paper through Credit Suisse First Boston Corporation, J.P. Morgan Securities Inc., Merrill Lynch Money Markets Inc., and Morgan Stanley Dean Witter to corporate and institutional investors in the domestic market. The commercial paper is guaranteed by JCPenney on a subordinated basis. No commercial paper has been issued or outstanding during the first quarter of 2003. The commercial paper program is rated "Not Prime" by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. and "B" by Fitch Ratings. Standard & Poor's Rating Services does not rate the program.

Funding had no short-term debt outstanding as of April 26, 2003 nor as of April 27, 2002.

JCPenney's financial condition remains strong with approximately $2.6 billion in cash and short-term investments as of April 26, 2003, which represents approximately 43% of the total of the $5.8 billion of outstanding long-term debt plus the proceeds of $250 million from the securitization of Eckerd managed care receivables. Included in the total cash and short-term investment balance were restricted short-term investment balances of $87 million as of April 26, 2003, which are pledged as collateral for import letters of credit not included in the bank credit facility and for a portion of casualty program liabilities.

JCPenney's liquidity position was further strengthened in February 2003 with the completion of two financing transactions. First, on February 3, 2003, JCPenney raised approximately $50 million by securitizing additional Eckerd managed care receivables. Second, on February 28, 2003, JCPenney issued $600 million principal amount of unsecured 8% Notes Due 2010 ("Notes") at an effective rate of 8.125%. J. C. Penney Company, Inc. is a co-obligor on the Notes. Additional liquidity strengths include the available $1.5 billion credit facility discussed in J. C. Penney Company, Inc.'s 2002 Annual Report on Form 10-K and significant unencumbered assets, primarily Eckerd inventory, which totaled $2,307 million at April 26, 2003, that could be used to secure additional short-term funding, if needed. No borrowings, other than the issuance of trade and stand-by letters of credit, which totaled $200 million as of the end of the first quarter of 2003, have been made under this credit facility.

For the remainder of 2003, JCPenney's management believes that cash flow generated from operations, combined with the short-term investment position, will be adequate to fund cash requirements for capital expenditures, working capital and dividend payments and, therefore, no external funding will be required. On May 29, 2003, Standard & Poor's (S&P) downgraded JCPenney's corporate credit, senior unsecured and secured bank loan ratings to BB+ from BBB-. This change brings the S&P rating more in line with the Moody's and Fitch ratings. This change is not expected to impact JCPenney's liquidity or financial position.

as the lower credit rating had already been incorporated into the long-term financing strategy. JCPenney's management believes that JCPenney's financial position will continue to provide the financial flexibility to support its turnaround initiatives.
